

A selection of guided tours in a soviet time military 4-wheel “Willy’s”, we suggest tasking along a richly filled Pädaste Barons’ picnic basket for a mid-way break.

Military Safari

We'll discover Muhu islands' military heritage, putting the Soviet army military vehicle to the test on a 5 km cobblestone road that leads to the Tsarist coastal defence battery in Võiküla and listen to the echo of your voice in the hangars of the former top secret and once strictly guarded missile base, which hosted the Soviet Army's ballistic nuclear rockets.

Mysterious and mystical Muhu

Wondering the dark lanes of ancient Muhu forests and idyllic gardens lined with stone-fenced country roads and visit lesser known attractions of Muhu. For example the Raagi pine tree, that acted as a lighthouse in ancient times; old Tallinn-Kuressaare Road; the Seven-Roads crossing; Rannaniidi cliffs and the thousands of years old stone burial sites with sacrificing stones. Enjoy the mild evenings of August on an adventure along the old stone fences in Räsä village, looking for a mysterious fireball 'lökits'.

Islet Safari

Why go with a boat, if you can also get there by car? Turn on the all-wheel drive and head for the islets of Võilaid, Kõinastu or Suurlaid. This safari is for those who are not afraid of extremes and are ready to jump out of the car, in order to complement the milder horsepower of a Soviet military vehicle with manpower support. The endurance of adventure will be rewarded by feelings of Robinson, and a tasty picnic basket.
